

Open Instructor Position for Fall 2015
Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering
Colorado State University

Instructor: Engineering Mechanics

The Department of Civil and Environmental (CEE) Engineering at Colorado State University invites applications for a new, non-tenure track, full-time faculty Instructor in the area of engineering mechanics. The role of this position is to support the educational mission of the CEE Department in providing high-quality instruction in undergraduate engineering. Specifically, the CEE Department offers required core courses in engineering statics, engineering dynamics, and mechanics of solids in the undergraduate curriculums for students majoring in CEE as well students majoring in other degree programs within the College of Engineering, such as Mechanical Engineering and Biomedical Engineering.

Responsibilities: The primary purpose of this Instructor position is to support the CEE Department's teaching of courses in engineering mechanics (with opportunities for other courses depending on the needs of the CEE Department and the abilities of the Instructor). The Instructor will join a collegial group of committed faculty, will teach a maximum of three academic courses per semester in the courses described above, and is expected to provide guidance and leadership for undergraduate education within these areas.

Qualifications: Candidates must have (1) an earned PhD in Civil Engineering or closely related field by the start date, (2) documented experience in teaching undergraduate engineering mechanics courses in statics, dynamics, mechanics of solids or closely related topics, and (3) a demonstrable commitment to high-quality undergraduate engineering education in the classroom. Although not required, licensure as a Professional Engineer (PE) is highly desired. The position reports to the Head of the CEE Department.

Salary and Benefits: Colorado State University provides full academic year salary and excellent benefits. Salaries are competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. A benefits package is included (<http://www.hrs.colostate.edu/benefits/index.html>).

Proposed start date: August 15th, 2015.

Application Deadline: For full consideration, please submit an application by 11:59 pm MST December 31st, 2014, applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

To Apply: Applications should be emailed to Cee_Instructor@engr.colostate.edu. A complete application must include the following:

- A cover letter of not more than two pages;
- A detailed curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching experience and quality;
- A vision statement, including teaching philosophy and vision, describing how the applicant would strategically fit into the CEE Department at CSU (no more than four pages), and
- A list of references with a minimum of three references listed – references will not be contacted without prior approval of candidates. Application materials of semifinalist candidates, including letters of reference, will be made available for review by the entire CEE faculty.
