

2016-17 Transportation Center Dissertation Year Fellowships

The Transportation Center at Northwestern University is pleased to announce the call for applications for its annual

Dissertation Year Fellowships

This award is given to Ph.D. Candidates in their final year of study conducting dissertation research on topics related to transportation or logistics

Funding can include: tuition, stipend, and other research-related expenses for a maximum of three quarters.

Note: Dissertation Year Fellowship (DYF) Tuition is paid at Graduate School 500 Level – Advanced Study rate (for students in their 9th term or later).

If not yet at this tuition level, the student must cover the additional tuition from other sources.

Overview of Requirements:

- You must have an approved dissertation topic.
- You must be planning to complete your Ph.D. during the 2016-17 AY
- Your dissertation must be on a transportation or logistics-related topic.
- Prior to the start of the funding period for the DYF, the applicant must provide verification that they have defended their prospectus.
- During the Fellowship year the fellowship recipient will be expected to deliver a Transportation Center Seminar suitable for a broad-based transportation audience.
- The Fellowship recipient will be expected to produce a 2-page Executive Summary and an “In Motion” research abstract on their dissertation research for use by the Transportation Center in communicating with its various constituencies.

Application Deadline: Monday July 11, 2016 (by 12:00 Noon)

For additional information, contact Diana Marek at at d-marek@northwestern.edu