October 10, 2023: This program is currently suspended indefinitely. If you wish to attend a program in Shanghai, please consider the CIEE (China International Exchange Center) Shanghai program.

Program Summary Information

In this exchange program, students enroll directly in the School of Mechanical Engineering or the School of Biomedical Engineering at Shanghai Jiao Tong University (SJTU). This program is well suited to the independent student who is up for the challenge of a new academic culture. The program is targeted to students in mechanical and biomedical engineering, but students can also study in other disciplines with courses in Chinese language and courses in any school except for the Antai College of Economics and the School of Medicine.

There is no language requirement to participate in this program, but students are required to take one quarter of their time abroad. Since many of the SJTU classes for 3rd and 4th year students are taught in English, NU students can take classes in their junior year, senior year, or 5th-year co-op to gain access to a broad range of English language courses. Students taking classes in Chinese will be required to complete screening to verify language proficiency.

Students should note that the term dates at SJTU vary based on the Chinese New Year. If students choose the fall quarter, Mechanical Engineering can make special arrangements for exchange students to complete their courses and take a break. If students would prefer to study during winter/spring, then engineering courses may be combined with cultural immersion courses during the winter break.

For more information, visit the Host University Website.

Host Institution

Shanghai Jiao Tong University (SJTU) is known as one of the oldest and most prestigious institutions in China. Founded in 1906, SJTU is a comprehensive, research-oriented institution with over 16,000 undergraduate students and more than 27,000 faculty members. SJTU has 22 schools/departments that are spread out across its city campuses. The largest engineering campus is in SJTU has 28 schools/departments that are spread out among its six campuses. The larger engineering campus is in Shanghai, which is located about 30-40 minutes from downtown Shanghai.

Exchange students will also have access to a wide variety of university facilities as well as cultural and sport activities: gymnasium, bowling alley, tennis courts, and billiards room among others.

Eligibility

- Northwestern juniors, seniors, or 5th-year co-op students majoring in mechanical or biomedical engineering will be eligible.
- Language Requirement: No language requirement, but students are required to take one term of Chinese language program.
- Interview Requirement: For the interview \(http://live.vcita.com/site/30ycby4r2bzq1u1c/online-scheduling\)

 - All interviews must take place before the application deadline (http://www.northwestern.edu/abroad/apply/index.html) for that term

Courses

- Students will be admitted to the School of Mechanical Engineering or the School of Biomedical Engineering, with course offerings in English. Students can also enroll in Chinese language courses, as well as courses from any College of Economics and Management and the School of Medicine. Review the SJTU English course catalog Website.
- Students choose and enroll directly in their courses at SJTU. Registration is done online through the help from the International Liaison Office of the School of Mechanical Engineering and School of Biomedical Engineering. Submit your course selections to the SJTU advisors in advance for review and approval.

Housing

- Northwestern students will be housed in residences or in privately leased apartments. Homestays near the Min Jiang are available. Shanghai Jiao Tong University (SJTU) staff will assist with housing, but students should be aware that housing is extremely limited. Most students will live off-campus. More information about housing can be found on the SJTU Accommodations.

Meals are available in the university dining halls and in cafes throughout the campus and city. More information can be found on the SJTU website for food service.

Northwestern Invoice

- You should not pay your exchange institution directly for tuition. Your Northwestern invoice (<https://www.northwestern.edu/abroad/money-matters/billing-payments/prepayment-plan-estimate.html>) will be issued through CAESAR on the regular quarterly schedule and will include your program fee only. Your student fees, and exchange programs are exempt from the study abroad administrative fee.
- Your invoice does not include additional program-related costs, such as housing, meals, or airfare. It is your responsibility to pay directly to the cost sheet above for the full estimated breakdown of your expenses abroad.
- If you receive financial aid (<https://www.northwestern.edu/abroad/money-matters/financial-aid/index.html>) and/or loans, these are disbursed directly to your CAESAR account. If you were awarded a GLO scholarship, it will also disburse to your Northwestern account.
- If you use the Northwestern Prepayment Plan, you may continue to use Prepayment Plan for your NU-billed study abroad expenses. See the abroad Prepayment Plan estimate (<https://www.northwestern.edu/abroad/money-matters/billing-payments/prepayment-plan-estimate.html>) for more information.

Overview

Program Type: Affiliated

The information provided below is a general overview for quick reference and specific information. Affiliated programs are designed and facilitated by program providers in the US and abroad. All student services and support are provided from the affiliated partner in the program location. Most questions should be sent directly to the program provider; GLO advisers are available to help you explore options, navigate and identify resources, answer Northwestern-specific questions, and assist with the Northwestern application process.

Effective August 30, 2023: This program is now open for the winter 2023 quarter. The GLO application deadline has been extended until October 1, 2023.

Program Summary Information

Perched on the banks of the Huangpu River and the East China Sea, Shanghai is China's largest city by population, commerce, and finance. CIEE Shanghai is located on East China Normal University (ECNU)'s Putuo campus, and is known as "University" for its beautiful grounds by the Liwa River.

Students can choose from a variety of disciplines within seven different tracks: Art and Architecture; Business; Communication; Computer Science; Global and Community Health; International Relations and Political Science; Language, Literature, and Culture. CIEE Shanghai is centrally located and convenient to public transportation for exploring the city. Content courses are faculty drawn from a variety of higher education institutions in China and worldwide.

Northwestern students will be required to enroll in at least two consecutive blocks in Shanghai.

- For Fall Quarter, students must enroll in Fall Blocks I and II, Fall Blocks II and III, or Fall Blocks I, II, and III.
- For Winter Quarter, students must enroll in Spring Blocks I and II.

Eligibility

- Open to Northwestern students from all majors meeting Northwestern's minimum eligibility requirements (<http://www.northwestern.edu/abroad/study-abroad/get-started/policies/eligibility.html>).

Courses

- For more information on academics, including a list of planned course offerings, please visit the Affiliated Program Website above.
- For Winter Quarter, students will enroll in CIEE Spring Blocks I and II. Each Winter quarter "block" is six weeks. Students will enroll in two courses each block, for a total of 4 courses during Winter Quarter. In addition to traditional classroom courses, students can also choose to enroll in CIEE Internship, CIEE Directed Independent Research, or CIEE Service Learning.
 - Note: Students should be prepared to have program commitments or travel time during Northwestern's spring quarter.
- Courses from this program are eligible for Northwestern transfer credit, so grades do not appear on your Northwestern transcript and do not affect your GPA.
- Visit Registration & Credit (<https://www.northwestern.edu/abroad/study-abroad/academic-planning/registration-credit>) to learn more about credit types and requirements, registration, and other considerations.

- Estimated credits: 3-5 Northwestern units.

Program Cost

- Study abroad program costs vary widely and may be more or less expensive than studying at Northwestern. Review the comparison \(http://www.northwestern.edu/abroad/money-matters/costs-fees/cost-comparison.html\).
- These figures will be updated for the upcoming fall by late spring or early summer; refer to your program materials for the most current information.
- Students participating in affiliated programs are also assessed a study abroad administrative fee (https://www.northwestern.edu/fees/index.html#saaf).

Financial Aid & Scholarships

- Financial aid (https://www.northwestern.edu/abroad/money-matters/financial-aid/need-based-financial-aid.html) is based on your financial need, including all expenses outlined in the cost sheet above.
- Visit the affiliated program website for information about their available scholarships.
- You are also encouraged to apply for other study abroad scholarships (https://www.northwestern.edu/abroad/money-matters/scholarships/index.html).
- For more information about billing, finances, and financial aid for study abroad, please refer to the Money Matters (https://www.northwestern.edu/money-matters/index.html) resource page of the Global Learning website or contact Krista Bethel (mailto:krista@northwestern.edu?subject=Study%20Abroad%20Financial%20Aid%20Question&body=Include%20your%20ID%20number%2C%20the%20names%20of%20the%20programs%20you%20are%20applying%20to) at the Financial Aid Office.

Deposit

- After you are accepted to the program, you will be required to pay a deposit (https://www.northwestern.edu/abroad/money-matters/financial-aid/need-based-financial-aid.html#deposit) directly to the program to confirm your participation. It is your responsibility to pay the deposit; Northwestern does not accept deposits for affiliated programs.

Northwestern Invoice

- Your Northwestern invoice (https://www.northwestern.edu/abroad/money-matters/billing-payments/index.html) will be issued on a quarterly schedule and will include the CIEE program fee and the study abroad administrative fee (https://www.northwestern.edu/fees/index.html#saaf). Refer to the cost sheet above for the most current cost information.
 - CIEE Participation Confirmation: If you paid a confirmation deposit, it will be credited to your CAESAR account after CIEE has received your invoice.
 - CIEE Scholarships: Most CIEE scholarships will disburse to your CAESAR account after the funds have been sent to Northwestern. It depends on the type of scholarship; contact CIEE directly to confirm how your scholarship will apply.

- NU Financial Aid: If you receive financial aid (<https://www.northwestern.edu/abroad/money-matters/financial-aid/index.html>), continue to apply directly to your CAESAR account.
- If you use the Northwestern Prepayment Plan, you may continue to use Prepayment Plan for your NU-billed study abroad expenses abroad Prepayment Plan estimate (<https://www.northwestern.edu/abroad/money-matters/billing-payments/prepayment-plan-estimate.html>) appropriately.
