

Northwestern University Engineering Co-op Employer Forum, Spring 2011

As a supporter of the Northwestern University Engineering Co-op Program, it is our pleasure to extend this invitation to you for the Fifth Annual Forum on Cooperative Education and Internships at Northwestern University. This event will give you an opportunity to share best practices with your colleagues, learn about the recent updates to the Engineering Co-op and Internship Programs at Northwestern and identify new ways to access students and faculty at NU.

WHAT: Spring 2011 Engineering Co-op and Internship Forum
WHEN: Wednesday, April 27, 2011
8:30am to 5:00pm
WHERE: James Allen Center
Evanston campus of Northwestern University
WHO: Managers, supervisors and college relations professionals who work with co-ops and interns
WHY: Share best practices.
Provide feedback to the Northwestern Program
Identify solutions to recruiting challenges

Agenda

8:00am Check in/Continental breakfast
8:30am Welcome and introductions
8:45am Remarks from Julio Ottino, Dean of the McCormick School of Engineering
9:30am International Student Work Authorization: Curricular and Optional Practical Training:
Nick Seamons, Associate Director, Northwestern University International Office
10:00am Break
10:15am Impact of Recruiting Trends on Quality Student Programs: Dr. Phil Gardner, Director,
Collegiate Employment Research Institute, Michigan State University
11:45am Lunch
1:15pm From Day One: Successful On-boarding Practices: William J. White, professor,
Industrial Engineering and Management Sciences, Northwestern University
2:00pm Employer panel
2:45pm Student panel
3:15pm Open discussion with students, employer panelists
4:00pm Reception

Registration will close on April 15th. Return the attached registration form to the McCormick Office of Career Development, by fax to 847-467-4727 or by e-mail to h-oloroso@northwestern.edu . For further information, contact Helen Oloroso (847-491-8669).

REGISTRATION IS COMPLIMENTARY - - CAPACITY IS LIMITED