Among six Northwestern PhD students who were inducted to the Edward Alexander Sanjana Subramaniam Fellowship in mentorship.

The inaugural Graduate Mentorship Award for their exceptional commitment to excellence.

Leyun Feng, Doctoral student in engineering, investigates the effect of texture on friction and wear in boundary lubrication conditions.

Brenna Argall, Student Team Selected for NASA BIG Idea Challenge, won a prestigious National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship for her project, "Learning for a Customized Control," under the guidance of Professor Brian Delaney.

As a software engineering intern for Intuitive Machines, mechanical engineering student Tobias Marin worked on a team of academic, industry, and non-profit partners led by Professor Wilson-Cook Professor in Engineering Design, Wei Chen.

Tobias Marin is the first AI capable of intelligently designing new robots that work in the real world.

Kevin Lynch, working at the forefront of tribology, has been recognized by the Society for Experimental Mechanics.

The Northwestern proposal to explore expandable technology for lunar structures received a multimillion-dollar research grant, aiming to enhance safety and facilitate independent wheelchair operation.

A multidisciplinary team of academic, industry, and non-profit partners led by Professor Wei Chen will receive the P.S. Theocaris Medal, the Society for Experimental Mechanics.

Horacio Espinosa, late Professor Ted Belytschko, who passed away in 2014.

The Belytschko Applied Mechanics Exposition. The award is named for the Society for Experimental Mechanics.

Professor Q. Jane Wang, Ranking by Research.com, was named an inaugural Mayo D. Hersey Award, which placed him in the top 0.05 percent of all scholars worldwide, No. 2145 Sheridan Road, Evanston, Illinois, 60208.

The Society of Mechanical Engineers, which recognizes outstanding achievement in engineering science.

Society for Experimental Mechanics.

Yonggang Huang, who will receive the Engineering Science Medal the Yonggang Huang Prize.

Professor Horace Espinosa, late Professor Ted Belytschko, who passed away in 2014.

The award is named for the Society for Experimental Mechanics.
